MONMOUTH FESTIVAL

Saturday 31st July

Main Stage

8pm - 9pm

ZANG TANG

Funk

Zang Tang's wonderfully unique tracks never fail to keep a crowd dancing all night long. Inspired by the group's eclectic musical tastes, the tight dance tracks encompass everything from Seventies funk and disco to prog rock and house music. Brazilian beats, disco drums, slap bass and ripping guitar solos are just a sample of the sound of the Tang. Since performing live on BBC Hereford & Worcester's Introducing session in 2009, they've built up quite a following, playing numerous gigs at live music venues around Bristol and Gloucestershire, as well as Cheltenham Jazz Festival, Jamstand, Nozstock Festival and Marlborough Jazz Festival. www.zangtang.com

UNCLE FUNK

70's Disco

Few bands these days can hold an audience spellbound for hours on end. Fewer still can ignite a party from their opening number, and simultaneously blow away even the most cynical of musos with their technical dexterity. And you'll see a hell of a lot of bands before you witness an act who will invite their audience onstage, wear the sexiest outfits that wouldn't have been allowed in the 70's, leap offstage to join the crowd, and still brew up a disco storm as powerful as that of the mighty Uncle Funk...
